

TINLEY PARK FESTIVAL THIS WEEK-END

MOKENA BOARD TO CONSIDER 9:30 CURFEW

The village board meeting at Mokena Tuesday evening was a quiet affair, not much business coming before the board. Russell Anderson and Attorney Shenk were absent.

W. A. Muehler presented his problem of securing village water for his subdivision. A lengthy discussion followed in which the board concluded that Mr. Muehler would have to wait for a decision until the new water ordinance was drawn which would cover laying of water mains.

The board adopted a resolution to have the clerk remind tavern owners of the law which stated that liquor is not to be sold to persons under the influence of liquor.

The board is considering establishing a 9:30 curfew law for minors, which would coincide with nearby village with like ordinance. The board recommended that the judge should have parents of minors be brought into court when such minors have become such a nuisance as to disturb the peace etc. Expression was given concerning young people out on the streets etc. at 4 a.m. that parents are at fault in such cases. It was reported that such actions of the young people is giving Mokena a black eye in the judgement of other parts of the county.

Concerning the building permits for the village, a rigid requirement is going to be adhered to in the future as follows: a person seeking a building permit, must submit a blue print and specifications made by architect or contractor to James Lassett, chairman of the building committee. The board is considering the appointment of a building inspector, fees for whom will be paid out of the permit.

No objections were made nor any persons appeared before the board as to the reclassification of lot 8 recently purchased by Sheldon Hauck. The ordinance was changed to make the necessary changes.

Mayor Spiess recommended that work be done on Second street, holes in other streets be filled and First and Denny street be widened. These the board accepted.

The board is making a call for volunteers to help clean the old school house yard on east Front street. The date set for this work is Saturday, Sept. 13 at 2 o'clock. They ask men to come with equipment, rakes, ax etc., to clean up the brush, trees and limbs that have been dumped there by local citizens. It is hoped that many will respond.

The fire and water committee reported that the new pump will be installed within the next two weeks.

Lightning Strikes New Lenox Home Labor Day Morning

Lightning struck the Harry A. Van Buskirk home on North Cooper road in New Lenox at 8:30 Monday morning. The bolt entered the bedroom on the north side of the house, after traveling down a tree near the window. It leaped to a lighting fixture, which was ruined. Narrowly missing their six-year old son, Larry, who was standing near a bed at the time, the bolt broke the fixtures, burned the drapes and tore a hole in the wall about three feet square. It also twisted a picture frame on the wall. Everything on this electric light circuit was ruined. Following this circuit, it struck the TV set, blew out a large fuse.

At the time the lightning struck, Mr. Van Buskirk was at his work in the Union Station in Chicago. His wife and older sons used the fire extinguisher to fight the flames, after having called the New Lenox fire department.

Damage to the room was estimated at $200, but this does not include damage to the TV and radio. The damage is covered by insurance.

THORMA LARSEN BECOMES BRIDE OF ROBT. CAGWIN

Late summer wedding vows were recited at 7 o'clock the evening of August 31st in the Methodist church at New Lenox by Miss Thorma Jean Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorma Larsen, 620 Cooper street, New Lenox, and Robert George Cagwin of New Lenox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Cagwin, Gum street.

The Rev. Ralph L. Miller officiated at the double ring candle-light ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of vari-colored gladioli and mums, palms, fern and two seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers. Mr. Wendell Cooper sang "Because" and "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Leonard Warning.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was very lovely in a princess style gown of nylon net over white satin with long tapering sleeves, Queen Ann collar, and tiny buttons down the back of the bodice. The bodice and train were of Chantilly lace and yoke of gown was lined with seed pearls to match her tiara headpiece.

Her french illusion veil fell from the seed pearl tiara. She wore a gold locket, a gift of the groom and carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli centered with a white orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Norman Johnson, sister of the groom, wore a yellow iridescent net strapless gown with a full five tiered skirt, and matching bolero jacket, mits and cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchid gladioli and yellow daisies tied with yellow satin ribbon. Bridesmaids were Miss Bonnie Zinser and Miss Joyce Marchio of Joliet. They wore orchid gowns identical to the matron of honor. They also wore matching caps, and mits and carried cascade bouquets of yellow gladioli and orchid mums tied with orchid satin ribbons.

Miss Jo Ann Marchio and Miss Jean Oster were candle-lighters and they wore green iridescent net gowns like those of the bridesmaids and matron of honor. They wore wristlet corsages of tea roses and orchid and yellow baby mums. The girls all wore Rhinestone bracelets and necklaces that were a gift from the bride.

Rolland Cagwin, twin brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Norman Johnson, Gordon Taylor, and Herman Juhant.

Mrs. Larsen, mother of the bride wore a blue taffeta dress with black velvet trim and black velvet accessories. Her corsage was of Amazon lillies. Mrs. Cagwin wore a slate blue taffeta with brown accessories and also wore a corsage of Amazon lillies.

A reception was held for more than 200 guests in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The brides table was covered with a white linen cloth and decorated with crystal candelabra. A four tiered wedding cake centered the table. Mrs. Richard Egly had charge of the guest book, and Mrs. Wray White of Homer, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Miss Barbara Kozar and Miss Mary Williams, both of Joliet, poured.

When the couple left on their wedding journey to northern Wisconsin, the new Mrs. Cagwin was wearing a navy and white knit suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home to their many friends in their newly furnished home at 8 Independence ave., Joliet, after September 7.

Hay Barn Goes Up In Flames on Emery Bettenhausen Farm

The Frankfort, Monee and Peotone fire departments were called out about 3:30 p.m. Thursday, August 28, when the hay barn on the Emery Bettenhausen farm, on Route 45, about two miles north of Andres, broke into flames. The barn is connected to a dairy barn and cattle shed. It was completely enveloped in flames when the fire fighting equipment arrived, and it was impossible to save it. The firemen devoted their energies to saving the corn crib, about 30 feet away, which contained some 2,000 bushels of oats and some tools, which were removed in time.

Contents of the hay barn were 90 tons of hay, 80 tons of straw, a tandem disc and a 14-row cultivator, all of which were burned; also 200 bushels of ground feed for cattle. All were burned. Eight calves in the dairy barn were saved.

Again at 9:00 p.m. it was necessary to call the Frankfort fire department, as the smoldering debris had started to blaze again. The following day about 30 men were on the farm cleaning up and helping to provide a shelter for the cows.

The fire was first observed by Emery's son, Lyle, as he came out of the house. Lyle saw smoke coming out of the ventilator and called his Uncle Raymond, who was making alfalfa hay. Raymond immediately called the fire department.

Emery Bettenhausen rents the farm from his father, Henry Bettenhausen.

EXP'ND MOKENA PHONE SERVICE

Another step in Illinois Bell's program to meet the continued growth of Mokena will begin next month when installation of new dial telephone equipment will begin in the First street exchange building now being enlarged.

The project will increase the capacity of the exchange in Mokena by over 100 telephones and bring more than 1,500 miles of wire in aerial and underground cable into the Mokena telephone network. R. F. McQueen, telephone manager, said this week.

To make room for the new dial apparatus, the exchange building is being doubled in size through construction of a 20x13 foot addition to the front. Exterior brick work is nearing completion.

The new dial apparatus will provide service for all applicants whose orders for telephones were delayed because of equipment shortages in the exchange. Technicians of Western Electric company, who will install the equipment, expect to have it ready for service in December, according to McQueen.

The new cables, each containing 600 wires, will extend from the exchange to subdivisions north of town. The cable work, supervised by N. L. Grund, district construction superintendent, is scheduled for completion by the end of the year. Mokena exchange, which now serves 450 telephones, has grown by 90 phones in the past three years.

Trace Tools Taken In Mokena Thefts

Stanley Warwick, of Chicago, who has been living with his father on route 6, near Mokena, appeared before a police showup in Chicago Wednesday night, August 27. Deputy Sheriff Ben Suva, of Joliet, attended this showup hoping to solve several Mokena robberies. He was of the opinion that some of the tools found in Warwick's car, abandoned in Calumet City several weeks ago, were taken in the Mokena burglaries.

In Warwick's car the police found a set of 16 open and box wrenches, valued at $17, and another set of wrenches, valued at $19. The tools were identified as his property by Charles Swanberg, owner of the Swanberg Farm and Implement Co., Mokena. Also, a gun found in the Warwick's car was identified as the weapon stolen from the Cooper and Hostert Garage in Mokena, on June 14.

Warwick is now in custody of the Cook county authorities, held on three burglary counts. He refused to admit the Mokena crimes, saying to Suva, "I'm sure to get sent up for 20 years. Why should I admit to other crimes."

Six-Year Old Boy Falls Out of Dad's Car and Is Killed

A six-year old boy from Chicago Heights, Joseph Bodreo, Jr., was killed Sunday night on Route 30, a few miles east of Joliet. This was the only Labor Day week-end fatality in Will county.

The accident happened at 8:30 p.m. in front of the Barr farm at a curve, about a mile west of New Lenox. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bodreo, Sr., the parents, were returning to Chicago Heights after visiting friends in Joliet. Through a tragic circumstance Joseph fell out of the car and under the wheels of a trailer truck traveling in the opposite direction. One of the trailer's wheels crushed his head causing instant death.

Just before the accident the boy, who was riding in the back seat, told his father that the door was open, and immediately attempted to close it. The suction of the wind pulled little Joseph out of the car into the path of the approaching truck.

Driver of the truck was Fred W. Creed of San Francisco, who saw something fall out of the Bodreo auto as he came abreast of it, but was unable to prevent the tragedy.

School in Spencer To Remain Closed

Both high and grade schools in this area opened last Tuesday, despite a high seasonal polio incidence, and it is believed most of the children were glad to get back. However, one school did not open.

This is the Spencer school, district No. 120, in New Lenox township, which remained closed because of lack of pupils. The Spencer school would have been dissolved by law June 30 for failure to operate a recognized school for two consecutive years so the board petitioned into the Reiter district, No. 119, which is also in New Lenox township.

The Spencer school has been a non-recognized school, meaning that it has not had an average of 12 daily attendance during the past two years. Teacher at the Spencer school has been Mrs. Daisy K. Johnston of Joliet.

The school started in October 1863, at which time classes were held in a house. In 1864 a contract was let for a building, same to cost $450. Remodeling was done in 1869 to acquire additional facilities, and in 1877 a twenty-foot addition was made to the building. In 1886 the first patent seats were installed and a new hardwood floor was laid.

District No. 120, the present number was adopted in 1901. After several meetings, this district agreed to combine with District 119, two miles west.

SUSAN NOVAK FIRST POLIO PATIENT IN N. LEN.

The first polio case in New Lenox this year is that of Susan, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Novak. Susan was taken ill last Thursday and was removed to the isolation ward in Silver Cross hospital Sunday. Altho her right leg is affected, her case is pronounced a slight one.

It is to be regretted that the weather played such a disappointing part in the plans of the Tinley Park Recreation Commission over the weekend. After the continuous rain on Labor Day the activities were called off. It just did not seem fitting that friends should be invited to the park. In fact, the great amount of water on the grounds would have made it impossible for anyone to walk around.

The committee in charge regrets most of all that the many floats which had been prepared, were not exhibited as considerable time and expense had gone into this effort. After much discussion it was decided that the most sensible course to follow was a postponement.

The festival will resume Saturday night, September 6, with special attractions that should interest everyone.

The program scheduled for Labor Day will be presented on Sunday, September 7. Sunday's program will begin at 2:00 p.m., with the big parade which will eclipse anything of the kind seen in Tinley Park. The fireworks will be displayed on Sunday evening, and the prizes will be given away at the close of the evening's program.

It is the desire of the Commission to do everything possible to bring the festival to an enjoyable conclusion for all. The Commission wishes to extend its sincere and special thanks and appreciation to the Tinley Park Volunteer Fire department for their splendid response to a call to help repair the damage caused by the storm Monday morning. It wishes, too, to extend thanks to the Boy Scouts for the coffee prepared by them for the men who were working in the rain.

The Tinley Park Recreation Commission sincerely hopes to see you and your friends at the postponed activities Saturday and Sunday, September 6 and 7, and feels confident that this postponement will in no way reduce the enjoyment in store for all who come. Everybody now has something delightful to look forward to.

VOTE INCREASE IN EDUC. TAX FOR DIST. 210

Voters in the New Lenox-Frankfort-Manhattan district voted last Saturday to grant an increase in the educational tax rate. The increase was asked as the present rate of 50 cents is not sufficient to provide the necessary funds for tuition of the high school students attending school in the adjoining districts.

The measure was approved by a ratio of 3 to 1, 316 being in favor and 148 against. The break down of the voting is as follows: New Lenox, 66 yes, 59 no; Manhattan, 95 yes, 40 no; Frankfort, 101 yes, 30 no; Mokena, 54 yes, 13 no.

The legal maximum rate will now be fixed at 71 cents.

Banking Amendment To Be Voted On In November

Membership in the Citizens Committee for the Banking Amendment now exceeds 6,000 citizens, committee officials announced today. The Committee is a non-partisan, civic group that is leading the campaign for adoption of the Banking Amendment to the Illinois Constitution to be voted on at the November general election.

Franklin Bliss Snyder, president emeritus of Northwestern University, chairman of the committee, and Charles Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, co-chairman stated that every county in the state is represented in the membership of the Committee.

In addition to the individual participation in the work of the Committee, a total of 39 statewide labor, business, agricultural and civic organizations have joined as participating groups.

The Banking Amendment is one of four amendments to the Illinois Constitution that will be submitted to the voters as part of the continuing Gateway campaign to modernize the Illinois Constitution. The Amendment will eliminate Constitutional provisions for double liability on state bank stock, which the Committee states, discriminates against Illinois banks.

Supporters of the Amendment point out that the double liability provisions actually provide no depositor protection and in fact, operate to undermine the state's dual banking system.

Only two other states, Arizona and Minnesota retain similar double liability provisions. Congress eliminated double liability on national bank stock in 1937.

Committee headquarters is located at 230 South Clark St., Chicago, 4, Ill.

(1) Operator pulls start-stop cord which activates winch power unit. (2) This sturdy "power head" activates both scoop and elevator. The hand-held Power-scoop (3) is drawn through the gutter to the central hopper (4) where it is elevated (5) to manure spreader outside of barn.

Hopper section, showing the scoop and cable about to empty a load of manure.

"Power head" unit drives both the elevator and the rotating drum for the cable.

Durable, well-constructed elevator lifts all liquids and solids at the rate of 45 feet per minute.

No. Cen., East. Hay For Drought Area Use, Hit by Bugs

Thousands of yellowed acres which should be emerald green touched with purple of alfalfa in bloom are evidence today thru-out northern and eastern states of a hayfield disaster which may cripple the nation's livestock feeding program during the coming fall and winter.

A villain feeding on the leaves has drastically cut the alfalfa crop in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware. It is a tiny insect, less than a quarter-inch long, called the potato leafhopper. These were the states toward which stockmen in southern and central states were looking for hay supplies, following the drought which dried up most of the hay in their sections.

Leafhoppers are an annual threat to hay crops all over the nation, entomologists point out. This year, ideal weather conditions to favor their activities have combined with one of the heaviest leafhopper populations ever observed. The yellowing of fields, which some farmers blame on mineral deficiencies or hot weather, is in almost all cases caused by leafhopper damage it is pointed out.

Ironically, this leafhopper invasion has taken place in the year when experimental work has uncovered the first usable program for controlling this hayfield menace with an insecticide. While a number of the modern insecticides will kill leafhoppers, many of them leave toxic residues on the cut hay which would show up in the flesh or milk of cattle consuming that hay.

This summer, successful control of leafhoppers has been obtained with sprays of an emulsion containing methoxychlor, an insecticide which does not present toxic hazards to either livestock or human consumers of livestock products, when used for this purpose. Striking contrasts are to be seen in fields where sprayed portions are covered with the lush green of healthy alfalfa, while unsprayed sections show only yellowed leaves, flecked with brown spots where "hopper-burn"—the feeding damage caused by leafhoppers—has devastated the crop.

Subdivision Plats Approve Five

CNS—Five south suburban subdivision plats were approved by the County board public service committee August 11 on recommendation of the county map department. A sixth subdivision was vacated on the same recommendation.

Among the new subdivisions approved are:

Arthur J. Tardiff's resubdivision of lots 8 and 19 in Frederick H. Bartlett's Palos Hills first department, located on 88th avenue one block south of 95th street, Palos township.

Evelyn A. Martin's subdivision of lot 47 in Bartlett's 87th street Acres, located one-fourth mile east of Ridgeland avenue and one block south of 87th street, Worth township.

Vacated was Handelman's subdivision, located on the southeast corner of Vollmer road and Kedzie avenue, Richton township. The request was made by Charles S. Handelman, original owner of the subdivision.

Growth of a Soul

Lesson for September 7, 1952

AFTER A MAN IS DEAD, and indeed while he is still alive, we ought to remember the best about him and forget the worst. That is how we want to be treated, ourselves. But human beings are so perverse that we often do just the opposite.

We remember the worst, forget the best. This is so in the case of the great King David. A novel was once written about him in which his life was pictured as a curve high in the middle, bending down sharply at both ends. After his great sins of adultery and murder, so the story went, he went on down and down hill to the end. This is not the picture we get from the Bible. In many ways his later days were sad; his fortunes declined, as we say. But his soul did not decline. The latter days of David show us how even a man who has sinned can rise again; how even an ageing man can grow in soul.

Dr. Foreman

... Signs of Growth
NOT THAT a man has to sin as David did in order to grow. In order to be healthy it is not necessary to be half-dead with ever first; yet even after a long stay in the sanitarium it is possible for a man to make his way to full health and strength.

Now David, though he fell, "did not blind his soul with clay." The experience struck down his pride; he realized with shame what he had done. Some men must wake bitterly to the fact of their own weakness before they can begin to take hold of God's strength. At any rate, we can see signs of growth in David's soul.

One of these signs is humility before God. Take the story of his flight from his capital, for example. He could have hardly been in a worse state. His loved son Absalom had become a rebel, his throne was in danger, his friends were turning against him, even his life was not safe. Another man might have committed suicide, or sat in his deserted palace bitterly awaiting the end. Another man might have returned Shimei's foul language, curse for curse.

But David moves through all this as a man who realizes he deserves his troubles, knows it is God who is punishing these hard things to pass, and bows humbly under whatever God sends. His kingdom was shrinking, but his soul was growing again.

Is the Young Man Safe?
ANOTHER plain sign of inward growth was David's attitude to his bad son Absalom. That young man had ceased to be a son, but the old man did not cease to be a father. The young man would have killed his father without hesitating, in order to gain the kingdom for himself. But David was willing to lose the kingdom, if by so doing he could keep from losing his son.

General Joab, a professional killer, could see no point in David's generosity. He believed David should be a king first and a father afterwards. It was Joab who against David's strict orders finally killed Absalom.

But in death as in life, David loved that wild young man. No more tragic scene is found in history than David's lament, "Would God I had died for thee, A Absalom, my son, my son." It does not sound like a lament for a dead enemy, and it was not; it was a father's grief for his son. The grief came late; David should long before those days have remembered his duty as a father to Absalom. But late though it was, David's tears show that in him his soul still grew.

No Cheap Sacrifice
ONE OTHER sign of soul-growth comes to the surface: a single sentence from David on the day when he bought the land where the temple was to be built. The owner Ornan (Araunah) would have given the land free; but David insisted on paying the full value. "I will not offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God which cost me nothing," he said.

No one would have blamed him for taking advantage of the owner, cutting the price a little. When David was a younger man he might have done it; but not now. No one else would know it, perhaps; but God would know it.

It was a sign that David was no longer the half-grown soul he had once been. For a man never really grows up till he does what he does, not because of fear, or ambition, or reputation, nor for any reason but because he knows how God is going to look at it.

ROY C. DOERFLER HAS EXCELLENT SHERIFF RECORD

With the special primary election to choose candidates for sheriff less than a month away—September 16 is the date—Roy C. Doerfler, who is seeking the Republican nomination, now has his campaign in full swing.

Doerfler, who was the unanimous choice of the Will County board of supervisors, to fill the office of sheriff following the death of Sheriff Ernest E. Overbey last spring, is picked by political observers to win the G. O. P. nomination in the primary this month. They base their opinion on the fact that Doerfler is favorably known to the public for his numerous successful investigations of crimes that have resulted in the conviction of the perpetrators.

Doerfler has cracked all the major cases that have confronted the sheriff's office since he became its chief investigator several years ago. Sometimes working for days on end with out sleep or rest, Doerfler keeps driving until a case is finished and all the evidence necessary for successful prosecution is wrapped up and handed over to the proper authorities. To know what to look for and know what evidence can be brought into court comes only through experience and training.

Political observers know that Doerfler has this ability and this training and experience, and it weighs heavy in their scales in predicting the outcome of the sheriff's race. They take into consideration that in solving several murder cases and breaking up numerous gangs of professional thieves, and keeping a strict eye on conditions, Doerfler has done much in keeping crime at a minimum in Will county.

Doerfler was graduated with honors from the F. B. I. National Police Academy and has worked in close cooperation with the FBI on various cases.

With many persons, it was pointed out, the sheriff's office is only a political job but with Doerfler law enforcement is a career. Said Doerfler relative to his candidacy: "I conscientiously believe that my qualifications warrant and support of the decent citizens of our county who are interested in efficient, honest and impartial law enforcement. For this reason I have steadfastly refused to make any deals, accept favors, or ally myself with any individual or groups who might later make demands that would prove contrary to the interests of good government."

Fledgling Nightingales

This following poem is dedicated to students of nursing everywhere—most especially Silver Cross hospital. Little white hands, firm but kind Give sick folks hope, and peace of mind.

As each patient in his own white bed, Are medicated, washed, combed and fed. Little white shoes that all day fly Down the corridors they whisper by,

Like wings of birds that never fail, These are the fledgling nightingales.

Thankless tasks that are never done, Are given to each from sun to sun.

How weary they must be of blood and pain, But their youthful faces show no strain.

Thank you all, in uniforms of white Tasks you performed thru days and nights.

Lift high the "lamp", so the light won't fail. God Bless You All! Fledgling Nightingales.
